

NEW COURSE: Mumbai University inaugurated the first Confucius Institute in the country to promote Chinese language, culture and exchange programmes. The institute will provide athletic training and educational consultation services. Eight city students have already won scholarships from the body